Jordan & Jordan Selected as Best Supporting Services Provider

New York, June 5, 2013 – Jordan & Jordan was awarded the “Best Supporting Services Provider” award at the 2013 Annual Inside Market Data and Inside Reference Data Awards Ceremony which took place at the Marriott Marquis in New York on Tuesday, May 21, 2013. The award recognizes excellence in assisting clients by providing high quality services and solutions in market data. Despite stiff competition from over a dozen other well-respected firms, Jordan & Jordan gathered the most votes from the sell side brokers and asset managers/hedge funds responsible for the management of market data. This is the third time Jordan & Jordan has won this award since its inception in 2010.

Jordan & Jordan has been a leading provider of expertise in commercial market data management and data licensing for over 20 years. Jordan & Jordan’s market data services consist of data licensing compliance services, managed services, expense management, strategic consulting and staff augmentation.

“We are extremely honored that our customers have recognized us as the leading provider of professional services and expertise in the market data industry” said Tom Etheridge, Managing Director of Market Data Services at Jordan & Jordan. “We believe this honor is in response to our culture of customer service, staff collaboration, and development. Because of our discipline and knowledge databases, our market data team is greater than the sum of its parts. We thank the readers of IMD and our customers for this honor. Positive feedback from our clients is the highest possible compliment Jordan & Jordan could receive.”

Accepting the award for Jordan & Jordan was Tom Jordan, President of Jordan & Jordan. Tom said, “At Jordan & Jordan, our team aggressively strives to provide exceptional services by using a client centered approach. The use and complexity of market data in response to industry dynamics is consistently changing. The realization that we are recognized by our customers from year to year demonstrates that our strategy of continually updating our services and assuring that our talented staff possesses the expertise needed to satisfy our clients is working.”
